

WABA Grain Grading School

August 27 & 28, 2018

Kalahari Resort & Convention Center
1305 Kalahari Dr, Wisconsin Dells, WI 53965

The Wisconsin Agri-Business Association is pleased to announce our 2018 Grain Grading School. Regardless if your company is licensed by the USDA or the State of Wisconsin, having knowledgeable staff that can accurately grade the grain entering and exiting your facility is an absolute must. These Grain Grading Schools are a cost effective way for you to provide hands on grain grading training for all of your staff.

Because of the numbers of staff which need to be trained at each facility, we are once again offering our Grain Grading School twice, so you can have staff attend each day without having to idle your facility. The classes will include in-depth training on grading both corn and soybeans. It is designed to provide each attendee with individual attention and hands on grain grading experience. In order to assure quality individual attention, we will be limiting class size to 30 individuals per session, so be sure to register soon to reserve your spot at one of the seminars.

We are pleased once again to have Mike Wang of the Milwaukee Inspection Service as our course instructor. Mike has over 30 years of experience in the grain business, holding positions as an official grain grader for both the state and federal agencies, a grain elevator quality control supervisor, a grain dealer and elevator manager.

To register for one of the seminars, please complete the attached registration form and return it to WABA at your earliest convenience. If you have questions or would like further information, please contact the WABA office at 608-223-1111. Please note that in order to keep costs down, time will be provided for everyone to get lunch on their own. A group lunch will not be provided.
